To Whom it may concern,

I am writing to provide a reference for Asha Ram Maharjan who has been employed as a Cook and overall handyman and errand runner at the Getman / Wells household for the past 2 years. During this time, Asha has consistently demonstrated exceptional skills, dedication, and professionalism in cooking, shopping, party & event preparation, and odd jobs as required.

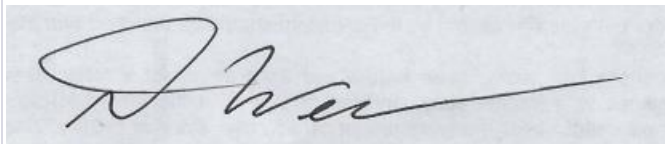

While his primary duties were shopping and cooking, he performed a range of duties, including but not limited to:

1. Meal Planning and preparation: Asha would plan the weeks meals, purchase the freshest ingredients, and prepare a well-balanced diet for the family. He can cook amazing local dishes, but also has many middle eastern and western dishes available and can follow recipes in English well. He was great at preparing large meals for parties, events, and holiday gatherings.
2. Administrative Tasks: Asha handled administrative tasks, such as the food budget, reconciling the receipts against the cash on hand, and was always precise with the money.
3. Communication: Asha speaks English well and consistently maintained open and transparent communication with both staff and family members.
4. Discretion and Confidentiality: Asha handled sensitive information with the utmost discretion, respecting the privacy of the household and its occupants.
5. Handy Man: Asha is very handy around the house and was always more than happy to lend a hand replacing light bulbs, hanging artwork, repairing loose handles, or whatever needed repairing. If it was beyond his ability, he was very resourceful in finding someplace to take a broken electrical appliance or calling in a specialist.

In summary, Asha Ram Maharjan has been an asset to our household, and I would not hesitate to recommend him to any other family that would benefit from his services. I am confident that he will bring the same level of dedication and professionalism to his next home as well.
